The STAR in Rangi is Angus

Every teacher needs an Angus in their classroom, as he is one of those students that the teacher can always rely on. Every day, without fail, Angus is determined and dedicated, leading by example and supporting others along the way. Angus is one of those people who doesn't need constant recognition for doing the right thing, as he has integrity, and is incredibly humble. Angus has come a long way over the past year and a half, and should feel incredibly proud of the stand-out student he has become.
