

Principal's Star Award

Term 3 Weeks 9 & 10

The STAR in Kakano is Debden

Debden is a student who comes to school bursting with news to tell about his whanau and what they have been doing. He is a fantastic friend to others and shows Te Manaakitanga by asking what he can do to help. Debden shows Te Toa and Te Manawanui by giving all his learning tasks a go and thinking of the best way to solve a problem. If it doesn't work one way then he tries another. Debden, this is you. Ahakoa he iti, he pounamu.

The STAR in Koru is Sylvia

Like daffodil in the spring time, Sylvia has blossomed into an amazing flower. She soaks up knowledge, growing with information and stretches high towards the sun in her learning. She cares for others in the Central School garden, asking questions to get them thinking about their learning. She shows commitment to improving her own learning focus in order to develop the strength and resilience to weather any storm. Sylvia's excitement, enthusiasm and energy see her well on the way to becoming a Central School Graduate Learner. You are a STAR!

The STAR in Poutama is Rebecca

Rebecca is a star student in every sense. She is totally committed in every thing she does, whether it is raising orphaned lambs, looking after her buddy in the reading program, hip hop dancing, and generally being a sensitive, caring person. Rebecca is always willing to go the extra mile for top quality work and to help others in their learning. She shares her knowledge and experiences with everyone and is a positive role model for others. It has been a privilege having Rebecca in my class. She will be a sought after student when Rangī syndicate choose their classes next year.

The STAR in Rangi is Kahn

Mr. Walters is quite the inquisitive young man. When participating in learning tasks, he often considers things from a perspective well outside the box and can even clearly explain his thinking, therefore encouraging his peers to justify their reasoning too.

Kahn is always up for a challenge and can't help but smile about it. He is a caring and trustworthy member of the Room 14 team. Kahn, you're a supernova!
